PROGRAM OF STUDIES FORM

Doctor of Music in: Organ Performance
Degree will appear on final transcript and diploma as:
  Program: Music Performance
  Major: Organ

This degree is offered to candidates who have achieved distinction in public performance and who demonstrate ability to execute research and scholarly study.

I. Credit Requirements

The Doctor of Philosophy degree requires a minimum of 94 semester credits beyond the bachelor’s degree. Thirty (30) credits from the master’s degree count toward the 94, and the remaining 64 credits are completed at FSU (40 credits of coursework plus 24 credits of Dissertation). Note: If the student received the master’s degree from the College of Music, all graduate-level credits (except remedial Music History and Music Theory) count toward the doctorate.

II. Diagnostic Examination

This area may (or may not) require this examination. Please consult with the Area Coordinator for more information.

III. College of Music, Residence / Scholarly Engagement Requirement

Please consult the current Florida State University Graduate Bulletin for an overview of the Scholarly Engagement requirement for all doctoral students in the university. To meet the Scholarly Engagement requirement, College of Music doctoral students must:
1) complete 24 graduate (5000-level or above) credit hours within any consecutive 12-month period; or
2) complete a minimum of eighteen (18) graduate credit hours in any consecutive 12-month period and submit to their Area Coordinator and/or faculty advisor evidence of additional Scholarly Engagement activities equivalent to 6 credit hours prior to completion of the degree. These activities include enrolling in courses (additional credit hours); attending or presenting/performing in seminars, masterclasses, workshops, symposia, conferences and festivals; engaging in creative activities, research and collaborative study beyond the university campus; utilizing the library, laboratories and other facilities provided by the University; and other scholarly or creative activities as determined by area faculty and approved by the area coordinator and by the Director of Graduate Studies for the College of Music.

In sum, doctoral students in the College of Music must complete 24 Scholarly Engagement “points,” with each credit hour counting as one point and points for other activities determined by each area and degree program. Please consult the Program of Studies and your major professor for information on Scholarly Engagement activities recommended in your degree program.

*Four recitals are required. Repertoire for all recitals is to be chosen in consultation with the major professor and must be approved by the advisory committee.

Treatise:
The treatise is a formal written document for which a prospectus has been submitted and approved by the supervisory committee. It must involve research and may be based on either of the following options:

1. An extensive research document of a minimum of 12,000 words, not including front and back matter such as title page, table of contents, lists of figures, bibliography and appendices.
2. A research document based on two public lecture recitals, each lecture comprised of a minimum of 2,500 words plus figures and examples. The document will comprise a minimum of 6,000 words, not including front and back matter.

Note:
- All treatise submission requirements of the FSU Graduate School and all University deadlines are applicable to both of the options above.
- Whether the prospectus for the treatise is required prior to or following the lecture recitals is determined by each area or the supervisory committee.
- Following submission of the completed treatise to the supervisory committee an oral defense with the committee is required. The treatise defense is held after completion of the two lecture recitals and submission of the treatise to the committee.
- Guidelines for selection of music for lecture recitals are determined by each area or the supervisory committee. Guidelines may include consideration of genre and historical periods or other aspects an area might determine.
