About the University Musical Associates

The University Musical Associates, also known as the UMA, is the community patrons’ group for the FSU College of Music. We are an integral part of the performance life of the students of the College through our attendance at concerts and financial support. Members of the UMA continue to be inspired by the students who enrich the culture in our community through their performances. The UMA funds assist students in all musical disciplines within the College of Music. The organization provides financial assistance for students to travel to competitions and professional conferences, and it also provides support for special performers and scholars to visit our College for public lectures, concerts, and masterclasses. We invite you to join and become a member in the 2015-2016 season as UMA celebrates 27 years of proudly supporting music students.
