The 2022 Bryan Goff Trumpet Competition Finals

13th Year Anniversary

Sunday, February 20, 2022
7:30 p.m. | Longmire Concert Hall
The Bryan Goff Solo Competition

The Bryan Goff Solo Competition, now in its thirteenth year, was conceived with the idea of providing a monetary incentive for the undergraduate students in the FSU trumpet studio to compete in the scholarship competition of the International Trumpet Guild and the solo division of the National Trumpet Competition. The repertoire chosen for the Goff competition consists of the solo which they will prepare for the NTC and the etude which is required for the ITG competition.

The results have been overwhelmingly positive. The participation has been as high as 90 percent of the studio who have diligently prepared the difficult repertoire for this competition. Many of these students have then been ITG scholarship winners and have been selected for the semi-finals of the NTC. In 2011, half of the ITG scholarship winners were from the FSU trumpet studio. That awards ceremony was truly an FSU show! (Afterwards, someone jokingly suggested performance enhancing testing for FSU students).

For these first four competitions, Professor Goff has provided all of the prize money. Beginning with the 2014 competition, interest from the Bryan Goff Endowed Scholarship Fund will be used to partially fund the prizes. This fund has now been fully endowed at more than $25,000, primarily by the generous donations from Bryan and Nancy Goff and many of Professor Goff’s former students.

Guest Adjuticator – Jennifer Dearden

Dr. Jennifer Dearden is a professional trumpet performer and educator, living and working in the northwestern Pennsylvania area. She has served on the faculty of the Music Department at Allegheny College since 2007. In addition to teaching trumpet lessons and music theory, she has served as the conductor of the Allegheny College Civic Symphony since 2012. Outside of her regular teaching duties, Jennifer also created and continues to coach two brass chamber groups.

Jennifer was a full-time member of the River City Brass from 2008-2015, where she played in the Solo Cornet section and performed a regular concert series every month at several venues throughout the greater Pittsburgh area. Since leaving RCB, Jennifer has been a founding member of two chamber groups, the French Creek Brass Quintet and the Northwest Passage Trumpet Trio, and she continues to perform as a soloist in faculty recitals and other venues in the northwest PA area. Jennifer is also an active member of the International Trumpet Guild, and as of 2019 serves on its Board of Directors.

Jennifer holds a Doctor of Musical Arts degree in Trumpet Performance from the University of North Texas, where she studied trumpet with Keith Johnson; she also minored in Wind Conducting, studying with Eugene Corporon and Dennis Fisher. While at UNT she performed with the University of North Texas Wind Symphony, and recorded several CDs as a member that group, including several volumes of the “Teaching Music Through Performance in Band” series. Jennifer also holds degrees from Ithaca College (BM), and Florida State (MM), where she studied trumpet with Frank Campos and Bryan Goff, respectively.
